Mental Illness in Children and Young People 1

- The World Health Organisation defines mental health as:
 - “a state of wellbeing in which the individual realises his or her own abilities, can cope with the normal stresses of life, can work productively and fruitfully, and is able to make a contribution to his or her community”.
- It is influenced by an individual’s experience, in addition to the circumstances they find themselves in, as well as the broader environment or society they live in.
- Children and young people can experience a wide range of mental health problems including:
 - anxiety, behaviour problems, eating disorders and depression, severe eating disorders, persistent self-harm and severe conduct disorder
- One in every nine children has a mental disorder
- Half of all mental health problems are established by the age of 14, with three quarters established by 24 years of age

Mental Illness in Children and Young People 2

- Wider determinants can influence a children and young people's vulnerability to poor mental health
- Many of those accessing CAMHS have experienced adverse childhood experiences (ACE) including:
 - Parental separation, parent in prison, sexual and/or physical abuse, neglect and household substance misuse or mental illness
- Children and young people with disabilities, neurodevelopmental and long-term conditions
 - 2.5% of children and young people in the general population has a learning disability and nearly 40% of this group will develop significant mental health needs
- Those in the criminal justice system
- Looked after children, care leavers and adopted children and young people

KEY FINDINGS

- Evidence of some good and excellent services and good practice in Southwark
- Children, parents and professionals told us that the system is fragmented and complicated to navigate
- There are opportunities to improve access through schools, universal and/or targeted services
- Issues around transitioning between CAMHS and Adult MH services
- High thresholds and long waiting lists
- Funding is focused on specialist services and funding is higher for CAMHS services in Southwark than in neighbouring boroughs
